

Thank You, State Farm!

A generous donation from State Farm to support financial literacy education across Wisconsin will begin to impact JA programs and enhance student learning across Wisconsin this month. In addition to financial support, State Farm employees are also an important part of JA's volunteer work in communities across the state providing hands-on learning in money management and career development.

Next year, State Farm will serve as a case partner for 3DE – a JA curriculum model being implemented at two Milwaukee high schools. Students will collaborate in teams to develop recommendations on how the company can prevent distracted teen driving. Case challenges help students gain critical competencies while solving relevant issues.
